Burning Refuse in Furnace Sends Great Volumes Through Windows of Basement and Scared Parents Thought Building Was on Fire.

Little did J. B. Kenefick, janitor of Public School No. 172, in One Hundred and Eighth and One Hundred and Ninth streets, between First and Second avenues, reck that he was laying the foundation for a panic when he instructed Tony Liperelli, one of his assistants, to gather up all the refuse in the basement and burn it in the furnace this morning. Tony followed instructions, and the panic came to pass at 11.50 o'clock, a few minutes before the 2,600 pupils were dismissed for the noon intermission.

BOARD MET SECRETLY.

A secret meeting of the Board of Trustees of Belfevue and Allied Hospitals was held this afternoon in the office of Dr. John A. Brannon, president of the board. At the conclusion of the meeting none of the participants would talk, but it was rumored, unofficially chat the trustees had taken up the financial standing of the institution and the recent management of its funds. Dr. S. T. Armstrong, the general medical superintendent, was granted a vacation during August of this year, and it was reported that he was on the verge of a nervous collapse when he started on his holiday. An extension of this vacation has been granted.
